NEMOX OVERVIEW:

Nemox is a modern company that combines technological innovation and top quality to create the products of tomorrow today!

Nemox stands for the design, development, engineering, and production of innovative niche equipment with high-quality technology and functional content for both domestic and professional use.

Over the years, Nemox has continuously developed a wide range of appliances, to offer customers an exceptional experience.

In 1994, Nemox was one of the first companies in Italy to obtain ISO 9001:2015 certification.

Since its foundation in 1986, the company has produced over 7,000,000 gelato makers that have been developed to meet the needs of families and professional users alike.

Today, NEMOX International is a leading worldwide manufacturer of gelato, ice cream, and sorbet machines. This goal was achieved thanks to innovation, quality, functionality, and an offering of a wide range of machines.
